50+ GAMES CODE OF CONDUCT

We expect our staff members and volunteers to treat you fairly, with respect and courtesy. In return, we expect you to treat our staff members and volunteers in the same manner.
Unfortunately, our employees, volunteers, and participants are sometimes subjected to abusive or threatening behaviour, as well as harassment. As such we have implemented a plan to address and respond to such situations.

Abusive behavior

Abusive behaviour is any inappropriate or unacceptable behaviour that does not always involve threats.

Bullying is another form of abusive behaviour. Intimidating behaviour does not always involve insults or shouting.

Cheating is not an option. Anyone caught cheating will be automatically disqualified.

If an individual behaves abusively or threateningly toward our staff members, volunteers, or participants, we will remove the individuals involved from the event to try to resolve the situation privately.

If this does not resolve the issue, or if the behaviour continues, or if the situation is deemed serious, the participant(s) involved will be escorted out of the Games and may be banned from future Games.

In extreme cases, these restrictions will remain in effect for two years from the date of the most recent incident. After the two-year period, the individual may contact us in writing to request that the restrictions be lifted. We will review the request and notify the individual of our decision.

REMINDER

OUR VISION

Our vision is to organize an unforgettable event that celebrates individuals aged 50 and over, while highlighting sports, recreation, culture, volunteerism, teamwork, and the achievements of participants.

OUR MISSION

The Gaspésie and Magdalen Islands 50+ Games are a regional event that brings together individuals through sports and cultural activities. The Games aim to improve the quality of life of older adults, promote physical activity, reduce social isolation, and provide an important source of motivation, recognition, and personal fulfillment for participants.

OUR VALUES

Respect, Collaboration, Participation, and Personal Fulfillment.
